Permission to Use My Photographs

I will retain ownership of my photographs listed below, but I give Highlights for Children, Inc. ("HFC") the unlimited, non-exclusive worldwide right and permission to use all photographs provided to HFC by me for publication in any medium, including print and the Internet, and in any manner HFC deems best. This permission includes the right of HFC to copyright the magazine or other publication in which these photographs may appear and to sublicense this right and permission to HFC's publishing partners to also use these photograph(s). In all cases of use of these photographs, in whole or in part, HFC will make best efforts to see that credit by name for the photographs used is included in the publication. I assure HFC that I am the sole creator and owner of these photographs, listed here: Free Ride at the National 200 and Paul Rhymer Sculptor
